

PROHIBITION IS ASSAILED BY JAS. HAMILTON LEWIS

The Democratic Senatorial Nominee Addressed State Convention

BULLETIN. Springfield, Ill., Aug. 20.—(AP)—Cautious the Democratic party of the state against the danger of taking any extreme stand on prohibition, A. L. Hereford of Springfield, who styled himself "neither a wet nor a dry," today appeared before the platform committee at the party convention on behalf of a wet plank, that he said was "good politics."

The resolution offered by Hereford in place of the "dripping wet" plank met with opposition. "Whereas, a petition has been filed with the Secretary of State for submission to the voters of Illinois all questions relative to the 18th amendment and the Volstead act, therefore:

"Be it resolved that the Democratic party of the state of Illinois in convention assembled pledges compliance with the will of the people as expressed on these questions in the election in November."

While the sub-committee on prohibition and the general platform committee were attempting to agree on just what the party will stand for on the wet-dry issue, preliminary business of the convention got under way in the House of Representatives.

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 20.—(AP)—James Hamilton Lewis, candidate for U. S. Senator, delivering the keynote address before the Democratic state convention, today urged modification or repeal of the Volstead act or the 18th amendment "or any portion of either of these, which cannot run concurrently with right and privilege of the state."

In his first speech of any length since being nominated to run against Ruth Hanna McCormick for the U. S. Senate, Lewis blamed prohibition for corruption, economic ills and despair of farmers. He said the farmer should again be permitted to profit from the medical and mechanical uses of the juice of his grain.

Lewis, a former Senator, summoned the citizens to "bring back this government to its people" and demanded a state "free of theft and murder by national prohibition highwaysmen."

"For the immediate action of our countrymen," said Lewis, "we call to attention that in the pursuit of riches in the maladministration of the national prohibition law—the enriched bandits, who under the name of law, infest the republic—have brought this United States nearer to open civil riot and revolution than our country has ever known since the rebellion under the alien and sedition laws of President John Adams."

Demand Subservience—The new masters now demand the subservience of man and woman, family and factory, street and roadside, home and church—to bow to the decree of dictation as to all their business and commerce, their food and agriculture, their food and drink, schools and religion."

The result, Lewis declared is "farms bending beneath mortgages," "the ravaging of nine hundred millions of earned money to pay for tribunals of punishment," "the expense of five billions each year to administer the national government, to give it force and officials to deprive the states of home rule" and "the snatching from the states and cities of five hundred millions of revenue."

The citizen, he said, "behinds business driven to desperation, capital to terror and sees ejected from employment millions and millions of toilers." He warned that "in their helplessness these burdened and abandoned Americans become fit for Communism and peril their own land with threats of danger."

Only Desired Relief—The restoration of the government to the foundation laid by the fathers of the republic, and the return of the states to revolve about the axis of the Constitution afford the only desired relief, he said.

"To this end, there must be," he said, "a liberalization, qualification or repeal of the Volstead act, or of the 18th amendment, or any portion of either of these which cannot run concurrently with the right and privilege of the state, or which stands as an obstruction to this program of a righteous morality in the government of each state and home."

Predictions were current that the adoption of the platform today would find downstate and Cook county democrats agreed on a demand for a "blanket repeal" of the prohibition amendment and its supporting legislation.

Sarah Bond Hanley, a "dry" was named permanent chairman of the convention which will draft a "wet" platform for Lewis.

RESORT TRADE BAD

Madison, Wis.—(UP)—Owners of northern Wisconsin resort properties which have suffered depression this summer are looking forward to the deer season for stimulation of business, according to reports here today.

Holding eight persons, a circular unsinkable boat that is propelled by paddles, has been invented.

Some Oddities In Wire News Today From Various Parts

WATER CURE WORKED

Lincoln, Ill.—(U.P.)—Undesirables have been ridden out of town on rails but it remained for local authorities to try another way on a new kind of nuisance.

Whole flock of blackbirds that have inhabited the trees along one of the streets here were a problem until the fire department was called in.

They suggested the water "cure" and so a hose with 100 pounds of pressure was turned on the birds and it was "Bye, Bye Blackbird."

NEW FISH STORY

Montauk Beach, N. Y.—(U.P.)—Here's one from the press agent at Montauk Point:

"Red Phipps, 28 year old fishing guide, rode for four hours on a life raft that was attached to a 700 lb swordfish by a harpoon. He was in a party headed by John Wamamaker, Jr. They speared the fish and followed it for a while.

"Wanamaker had to return to New York City because of an appointment so Phipps volunteered to go over the side on the raft and wait for the swordfish. It took him four hours to do it, and the crew of another fishing boat helped him land the fish."

A HORSE ON HIM

Evansville, Ind.—(AP)—Until a certain milk wagon horse shows signs of life, William O'Keefe is out $50.

O'Keefe, a Northwestern University student, drove his collegiate car into the horse yesterday and knocked it down. It didn't seem to be much of an accident, the horse just turned over on its side and stayed there.

The driver couldn't make him get up. O'Keefe couldn't make him get up. Neither could the police.

"Anybody can tell," O'Keefe insisted, "that that horse isn't dead. It just thinks it is."

At the police station he was still unconvinced. "He could get up if he wanted to," O'Keefe said bitterly.

"All right," the Sergeant said, "we'll put it this way—$50 bail pending the outcome of said horse's injuries."

BAD NEWS FOR DOGS

Paris.—(U. P.)—The flea-tamer Jean Rochet, who has presented his performing fleas at fairs all over France, is preparing his troupe for a visit to the United States, provided he can get it through immigration and Quarantine.

Rochet has devoted his life to the study of fleas, teaching them tricks of toe-dancing, gymnastics and juggling.

"Each one is trained according to his particular character and temperament," said Rochet. "They are controlled with a fine strand of golden wire, which is fixed with the aid of a microscope."

"The fleas begin to show propensity to rather dancing, juggling or 'strong-man' feats and these qualities are developed carefully over a period of weeks."

"They get to know me soon and are extremely obedient. They can be taught to respond to the clapper on a gong. I prefer the male flea, because he is more conscientious."

VICTIM OF NAME

Oklahoma City, Okla.—(U.P.)—Mrs. Nellie Dunn, 21 believes she is a "victim of notoriety"—but she doesn't mind much.

Mrs. Dunn's name was Nellie Kimes until she was married a year ago. In Oklahoma the name Kimes is famous.

Food Racketeering In N. Y. Is Charged

New York, Aug. 20.—(UP)—A special squad of police and detectives guarded the food market districts today on Police Commissioner Mulrooney's order to prevent violence by racketeers.

The Utah Poultry Producers' Association claimed to have received threats of sabotage and its truckmen threats of death as a result of underselling the market price of eggs by five cents a dozen. It was to guard against retaliatory measures that police were on guard.

The state inquiry into alleged food racketeering that has cost New Yorkers thousands yearly continues today, with evidence uncovered indicating that the milk chain, exposed three years ago, had been revived to force up the price of milk.

GREATEST AERIAL MIGRATION IN HISTORY NOW MOVING ON TOWARD CHICAGO FOR NAT'L. AIR RACES

Chicago, Aug. 20.—(UP)—The Curtiss-Wright-Reynolds airport was the goal today of the greatest aerial migration since the beginning of history.

From all corners of the land, speeding on the wings man invented to conquer the realm of the birds, came famed fliers who soon will thrill a million people at the tenth annual air races.

With these air derby groups already enroute, four others preparing for their take-offs, grandstands built to seat 100,000 persons daily for ten days, and the presence of the nation's famous aviators to a man assured Chicagoans were beginning to realize the enormity of the spectacle in store for them.

Parade on Friday

The first great demonstration in connection with the races will come Friday noon, when hundreds of airplanes will swarm over the loop while a parade of internationally known fliers, high government and state officials march beneath them.

Friday evening a banquet will be held in honor of Admiral Richard Evelyn Byrd and Saturday the meet itself will open with arrival of two air derbies and the initial day and night demonstrations and exhibitions at the airport.

Among the notables who will participate will be Admiral Byrd, Col. Lindbergh, Capt. Frank Hawks, Col. Goebel, Clarence Chamberlain, Dale Jackson and Forrest O'Brien, Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, Amelia Earhart, Jimmie Doolittle, Billie Brock, Al Williams and Mrs. Florence Barnes.

NINE ALLEGED MINE BOMBERS IN U. S. COURT

Federal Trials To Be Held In Kentucky It Is Stated

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 20.—(AP)—Nine persons alleged to be implicated in the bombing from an airplane of coal mine properties at Providence, Ky., and other disorders in the Webster county coal fields will be named in federal warrants, U. S. District Attorney Thomas J. Sparks announced here.

Mr. Sparks said the warrants will charge conspiracy to violate federal statutes forbidding transportation of explosives from one state to another for unlawful purposes and intimidation of witnesses summoned to appear at contempt proceedings to be held at Henderson, Ky., Sept. 2.

The action will bring the trials into federal court, either here or at Owensboro. Sparks said state authorities in both Kentucky and Illinois, where several of the defendants were arrested, have expressed willingness to turn the matter over to the federal government.

Sparks said warrants will be issued against the following: Paul Montgomery, Murphysboro, Ill., aviator, who is said to have confessed piloting the bombing plane; Edward Hecklebeck, Zeigler, Ill., aviator; and Carroll Vaughn, Angus, Meritt, Esell Grant and Ewing Riley, all striking miners. Names of the other three were withheld pending their arrests.

The bombing climaxed a series of disorders in the Webster county field which started when several mines reopened after a shutdown following strikes.

DISCARDED WAR SHIPS WILL BE MADE TARGETS

While Doomed 'Utah' Is to Be Controlled By Radio Device

Washington, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Three scarred and battered destroyers are to become "perennial" targets for the lighter guns of the Navy's battleships.

One of these vessels is being equipped with a radio control that will enable it to move crewless about the seas while the guns of the big ships blaze away at it.

The Stoddert, in service for ten years, is the first selected to improve the Navy's marksmanship.

In firing on these vessels the gunners will use target ammunition which will only tear holes in the craft instead of blasting it out of the water. When there are too many holes, the targets will be towed to port and patched.

Two other destroyers, the Sloat and the Marcus, are to become stationary targets for bombing tests. They will be dismantled and anchored at sea where airplanes will drop bombs to determine whether four 30-pound or one 116-pound bomb be more effective.

The Navy also is hopeful of equipping the battleship Utah, which the United States must lose under the London naval treaty, with radio control for operation as a moving target.

Once before the Navy experimented with a radio-controlled vessel. The battleship Iowa was sunk by gunfire after it had been bombed, but the results of this test were not considered conclusive.

Abt Is Erecting Building In Polo

The Tri-County Press, Polo, of last week contained the following concerning Henry Abt, Dixon merchant:

Henry Abt, former Polo business man, says that residents of larger cities are "kidding themselves" when they make themselves believe that the small towns are going to be wiped off the map. "Towns like Polo will hold their own," he said. "I have had at least nine opportunities to rent my building when it is completed. That doesn't show that Polo will have empty store rooms in the future." Sounds very good, Mr. Abt. A live set of business men will put the town ahead.

Mr. Knowles is assistant to Dr. Warren G. Murray, managing officer at the Dixon institution and Acting Managing Officer during Dr. Murray's absence on vacation. Mr. Sharp is Master Mechanic at the State Hospital. L. L. Ward of Peoria is slated to succeed Mr. Sharp here and Dr. Marcella is to succeed Dr. Knowles.

Mr. Sharp has been at the Dixon institution since its beginning, 12½ years. He has been state service since 1908. Both men are efficient and very popular within the institution and among the citizens of Dixon and it is a matter of regret that they are to be moved away.

Pack Of Wild Dogs At Large In Ogle

Farmers in Ogle county have formed a posse to wipe out what they believe to be a pack of wild dogs, which lead by a wolf is killing sheep. The pack swooped down on one farm and killed thirteen sheep, and on another farm seven sheep. Other farmers reported similar losses.

On one farm a cow lost its tail, and several hogs have been the victims of the pack's attack.

AIMEE'S MOTHER SAYS DAUGHTER BROKE HER NOSE

While Mystery Shrouding Evangelist's Sickness Remains

(BULLETIN) By GEORGE H. BEALE United Press Staff Correspondent

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 20.—(UP)—The state of Aimee Semple McPherson's health was no longer a mystery today but the manner in which her mother, Mrs. Minnie "Mother" Kennedy, received a broken nose was still somewhat of an enigma.

The evangelist admitted reporters to her sickroom for the first time, permitting them to see that she was ailing and at the same time stating definitely that she did not strike her mother, as charged by Mrs. Kennedy.

Previously Mrs. McPherson's physician had announced that she was suffering from a nervous breakdown and strain, while her Four Square Gospel associates interpreted her condition "as near death and blind."

Until the sickroom visit, there was no answer to Mrs. Kennedy's statement that "Aimee struck me on the nose."

"I would never strike mother, never!" Mrs. McPherson said today. "We had a slight argument but mother received her broken nose when she threw herself on the floor in a tantrum."

Los Angeles, Aug. 20.—(AP)—The mystery surrounding Aimee Semple McPherson's isolation at a Malibu Beach cottage remained unsolved today as conflicting reports of illness, blindness, a face lifting operation, and a fist encounter with her mother went unanswered by the evangelist.

Guards stationed at windows and doors of the cottage, Mrs. McPherson denied herself to all but a few while from numerous purported official sources emanated statements about her condition.

Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, mother of the evangelist, undergoing treatment for a broken nose which she says her daughter gave her, issued a demand that Mrs. McPherson return to her pulpit at Angelus Temple and show her congregation "the effects of the face lifting operation" she said the noted pastor underwent recently.

Late last night an official at the temple announced Mrs. McPherson "was resting easily." Earlier she had been reported in a serious condition from a nervous breakdown and the board of directors of Angelus Temple asserted "it is true physicians are greatly concerned for her recovery."

Mrs. Kennedy told her story of her alleged fist fight with her daughter to newspapermen while she rested in a sanitarium. The trouble started, according to Mrs. Kennedy, when her daughter accused her of talking about her and her secretary, Mae Waldron.

"Aimee was wild," Mrs. Kennedy said. "We had a few words and then she came right out and accused me of talking about her. I said, 'Honey, I haven't been talking about you, but I have said some things about some of your associates.'"

"Things happened so quick I can't remember. Anyway, when I came to my senses, I was on the floor and my nose was almost killing me. They picked me up and dashed water on my wrists and although I was in terrible pain, I decided not to make any friends up in Olympia, Washington, and I left for the north the next day to dedicate a church."

"But my poor nose kept getting worse. It turned blue and green and I rushed back here realizing I was badly hurt. I had received a face lift and so had Aimee. Sure, I had my face lifted. What of it? So did Aimee—She won't deny it if you ask her."

Hospital Officials Ordered to Peoria

The many Dixon friends of two well-known officials at the Dixon State Hospital will be sorry to learn that Dr. H. B. Knowles and John M. Sharp have both been ordered transferred to the State Hospital at Bartonville, near Peoria, effective Sept. 1.

Dr. Knowles is assistant to Dr. Warren G. Murray, managing officer at the Dixon institution and Acting Managing Officer during Dr. Murray's absence on vacation. Mr. Sharp is Master Mechanic at the State Hospital. L. L. Ward of Peoria is slated to succeed Mr. Sharp here and Dr. Marcella is to succeed Dr. Knowles.

MIXED-UP BABES TRADED TUESDAY EVE IN CHICAGO

But Watkins, Returning From Ball Game Is Not Satisfied

Chicago, Aug. 20.—(UP)—The famous Watkins-Bamberger baby mix-up case became more involved than ever today as William Watkins greeted with loud threats of law suits his wife's action in trading children without his consent.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bamberger called at the Watkins home last evening, traded babies with Mrs. Watkins, waited a while and left before Watkins got home from the 16 inning Cubs ball game.

"I wouldn't have allowed it had I been home," declared the man who a few weeks ago was so anxious to make the trade. "How do I know which baby is ours and which belongs to the Bambergers? That question was to be decided in the courts."

"Just wait until I see my lawyer. I'll probably sue the Bambergers and everybody else who had anything to do with this."

Sons were born to Mrs. Watkins and Mrs. Bamberger on June 30 in Englewood hospital. Ten days later the parents discovered evidence that their offspring had been switched. On the back of the baby taken home by Mrs. Bamberger was found a strip of adhesive tape on which was written "Watkins."

The most troublesome angle of the entire case appeared to be the fact that the children had been baptized in different churches. The Bambergers took the baby who now is in the Watkins home to the Catholic church and had him christened Charles Edward Bamberger. The other child was christened Charles Evans Watkins by a Presbyterian minister.

"On that's easy," Bamberger said when reminded of that angle. "We'll just let the clergymen straighten it out."

The babies appeared to be very much disinterested in the whole proceedings. Both howled lustily during the trade.

SHIPS, AIRCRAFT SEARCHING SEAS FOR VAN BLACK

Poor Visibility Held Up The Hunt During The Morning Hours

(BULLETIN) New York, Aug. 20.—(UP)—Search for the body of Van Lear Black, Baltimore publisher who fell off his yacht while it was cruising off the New Jersey coast, was abandoned temporarily today because of poor visibility.

Three planes set out from the North Beach airport at 7 A. M. today to continue the search, but they returned three hours later, reporting it was useless to continue the hunt until visibility improved.

Capt. John Kelley, skipper of Black's yacht, filed a report today with the United States Steamboat Inspectors.

New York, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Ships and aircraft were called upon today in an intensive search for Van Lear Black, Baltimore publisher, financier and globe-trotting aviation enthusiast, who is believed to have fallen from the rail of his yacht and drowned off the New Jersey coast Monday night.

The Navy dirigible Los Angeles, Black's yacht, the Sabalo, Coast Guard vessels, other craft and four amphibian planes, were assigned to the task. Search by aircraft and ships yesterday proved futile.

Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, a friend of Mr. Black, requested that everything possible be done to promote the quest. The only possibility that he may be found alive rested in the fact that he is a good swimmer and may have kept himself afloat until picked up by some small ship.

He was last seen shortly after 9 o'clock Monday night 18 miles south of Ambrose Channel, setting on the stern rail of his yacht, his legs entwined around the guard rails and one hand grasping a stanchion. He was smoking a cigarette. That day he had flown to Newport to see his twin grandchildren, just born to his daughter, wife of Lieut. Albert J. Bolton.

He had boarded the yacht at the wharf of the New York Yacht Club, foot of Twenty-Seventh street, about 6 o'clock, apparently delighted. Shortly after 10 o'clock his yacht went on deck to consult him. Mr. Black could not be found. Alarmed, the yacht informed the Captain, John W. Kelley.

"We ordered the yacht, which was then about eight miles south by west of Shrewsbury gas buoy off the Jersey coast, stopped and we played searchlights on the water," said Captain Kelley.

"Seeing nothing we started her again and put about. For hours we cruised. But we could find no trace. There was nothing to do but to give up and put back again into Gravesend Bay. The only thing we found was Mr. Black's handkerchief near the rail of the aft deck. That told me what probably happened."

There were sixteen persons aboard the yacht at the time and none saw Mr. Black fall.

Walgreen's Plane With C. C. Caravan

Among the planes accompanying the Illinois Chamber of Commerce air caravan in their visit to Dixon today was the Walgreen airship, a big twin-motored Sikorsky cabin plane, an amphibian which can land on either water or land.

Last fall the Walgreen Company, owner of a great chain of drug stores, inaugurated a plan of rewarding courteous employees with rides in the Sikorsky amphibian. The company's "Mysterious Shopper" visits the Walgreen drug stores in the various cities for the sole purpose of selecting deserving employees for this recognition. On this tour with the Illinois Chamber of Commerce the plane will take up employees from the stores in Rockford, Moline, Davenport and Rock Island and the plane will also proceed to Galesburg, Quincy and St. Louis to give rides to "courteous employees" in those cities.

Air Mail Exhibit During Air Races

During the National Air Races at Chicago, Aug. 23 to Sept. 1 the Post Office Department will have an air mail exhibit at the Allerton House, 701 North Michigan avenue, to which the public is invited. The exhibit will be free and will be conducted on an education basis with postal attendants available to explain the operation of the air mail service from a business standpoint. In addition to the air mail exhibit there will be a general aviation exhibit, including air passenger traffic, beacon lights, floodlights, airways, etc.

Marshal Joffre Is Challenging Calvin

Paris, Aug. 20.—(UP)—Marshal Joseph Joffre became a challenger for Calvin Coolidge's record for brevity today when he told the history of the world war in twenty words.

"A people once dreamed of establishing a world hegemony," the famous military leader told a delegation of Catalonians who visited him "France ruined their project. And this was done at the Marne."

The Catalonians presented Joffre with two beautifully bound volumes signed by 60,000 Spaniards. The volumes' text highly praised the aged soldier, who was born at Riveralses in Pyrenees Orientales.

Chicago Packer Is Injured In Crash

Chicago, Aug. 20.—(AP)—G. M. Willett, vice president of Armour & Company, was injured, perhaps fatally, and 20 passengers of a Greyhound Lines bus from Kalamazoo to Chicago were shaken up when the bus collided with Willett's automobile on South Parkway today. Willett suffered a skull fracture.

CAPTAIN OF VENTURA REFUSES TO ACCEPT ROLE OF HERO: SAYS ALL CREDIT BELONGS TO TAHITI'S CREW

Pago Pago, Samoa, Aug. 20.—(UP)—Captain W. R. Meyer, modest skipper of the rescue ship Ventura, refused today the role of hero which residents of Pago Pago forced upon him for his work in saving the 251 passengers and crew of the Tahiti which, foundered Sunday in the South Seas.

Captain Meyer steadfastly depreciated his own efforts, insisting that tribute should be paid to Captain Tuten of the ill-fated Tahiti.

The rescue ship arrived yesterday amid a welter of harbor whistles, sirens, band music and the wild greetings of residents.

"Several times Captain Tuten decided to put the passengers in the small boats," Captain Meyer declared. "But his excellent judgment, his knowledge of the sea and of his own vessel, together with a calm, sympathetic, but firm control of the situation kept the passengers and crew from this exposure."

He discounted his own dash through the reef-studded area of the Pacific and his calmness and spirit of directing the transfer of the passengers and crew of the Tahiti before it sank.

Also among those acclaimed by the admiring populace was Chief Engineer Knudsen of the Ventura for his performance on the long run in shutting down on the ice plant and other auxiliary plants in order to save all steam for the dash to the sinking Tahiti.

The passengers and crew of the Tahiti were apparently little the worse for their strenuous experience.

making great records at the Citizens Military Training Camp at Fort Sheridan is Robert Beech.

Robert likes the camp for the excellent military and physical training offered to any young man who is not afraid to work. So far the food and training has been wonderful.

He advises anyone wishing health and good training in military and physical work to come to camp.

TO REPAIR BRIDGE

The floor of the Peoria avenue bridge over the Illinois Central tracks south of the city on route 89 is to receive immediate attention and necessary repairs will be made at once, it was announced at the office of the state department of highways yesterday.

The floor of the bridge has been in a dangerous condition for several days. Clyde Ross of the state department of highways offices, communicated with Illinois Central officials yesterday afternoon and received the assurance that immediate repairs would be made to put the structure in a condition safe for travel.

Former Governor Is Leading In Wyoming
Cheyenne, Wyo., Aug. 20—(AP)—Robert D. Carey, former Governor, led the field of republican Senatorial aspirants both for the short and long term nominations with the tabulation of scattered returns in yesterday's primary.

Figures from 189 of the State's 650 precincts gave, for winter, Carey, 4,808 Charles E. Winter, former Congressman from Casper, 1,407; W. C. Denning, Cheyenne publisher and former United States civil Service Commission president, 1,561; and W. L. Walls, Cheyenne attorney, 502. Short term figures are relatively the same.

Walls was running on a "wet" platform, advocating repeal of the 18th amendment. Among the others there was no issue, but personality played the leading part.

Bandits Pick Wrong Store For Robbery
Chicago, Aug. 20—(UP)—Two unidentified bandits were nursing serious wounds at Bridewell hospital today, and regretting that they had attempted to rob a store owned by a policeman's father.

The two men, who refused to give their names, entered the store owned by James Connerston, 60, on North Branch Avenue early today and demanded money.

"I haven't any money," Connerston insisted in tones loud enough to be heard in a back room where his son, John, 30, a policeman, was dressing.

John, gun in hand, ran into the store and found one of the robbers beating his father over the head with a gun. The bandit pointed the gun at the officer, but it didn't go off. Then John fired, wounding one of the men in the back and the other in the jaw.

Plane Propeller Broke: Three Dead
Trieste, Italy, Aug. 20—(UP)—The blade from a broken propeller shaft catapulted through the cabin of a seaplane carrying 11 passengers, killed two children and one woman and severed the arm of another woman shortly after the plane left Lussim Piccolo, near Pola today.

The dead were Emma Cosulich, young daughter of Guido Cosulich, one of the directors of the Lloyd Triestino Steamship Line and president of the company owning the seaplane, the Societa Italiana Servizi Aerei, the wife and child of Commander Vidulich, a director of the air line.

The blade carried away the arm of Mrs. Vidulich, grandmother of one of the children killed.

The seaplane was enroute from Trieste to Zara and Ancona.

ALABAMA, TEXAS AND WYOMING IN
APPEAL FOR AIDFederal Drought Relief
Committee Received
Unexpected Plea

Washington, Aug. 20—(AP)—Formerly launched today into the task of coordinating drought relief effort, the government's committee headed by Secretary Hyde had before it three urgent requests for aid from states which had not figured in the original relief plans.

The Governors of Alabama, Texas and Wyoming telegraphed requests that portions of their states be given help on the same basis as the remainder of the drought area.

Northern and northwest Alabama counties, portions of West Texas and range section of Wyoming were mentioned in the appeals. Governor Moody described west Texas conditions as "disastrous" and said aid was "imperative."

The federal committee already had before it a list of 300 counties requiring aid in which the certainty of inevitable distress this winter is faced by a large portion of their population.

Among immediate measures being put in effect, special emphasis was given to prevention of unwarranted price increases. The entire staff of county agricultural agents, who have individual responsibility for food-stuff and cattle shipments at the emergency railroad freight rates, were instructed to guard against profiteering tactics.

The Red Cross planned to shoulder the principal burden of human suffering, laying plans now to meet the numerous appeals which its officials feel are certain to come in as winter approaches.

means just one thing — the same thing "Jesse James" meant in Missouri in Civil War Days.

Mrs. Dunn was a little girl when her brother, Matt, leader of a notorious gang of desperadoes, was sent to prison for life and another brother, George, imprisoned for killing a Deputy Sheriff.

"I suppose when I'm an old woman they'll be arresting me — just because my name used to be Kimes," said Mrs. Dunn—in jail again — today.

Once she was arrested and charged with killing a farmer. She was acquitted, moved on. She was arrested many more times, but always released.

"This is just another case where they heard I was in town so came and got me," she said. "The law doesn't want me to go straight. They want me in jail. They think it's fun."

"But," she added philosophically, "They'll turn me loose as soon as they investigate me a little. They always have."

Established Dental Office With Uncle
Dr. G. C. Moss who recently arrived in Dixon after completing his post-graduate course at the International School of Orthodontia at Kansas City, Mo., this morning opened his office at 214 First Street. He is now associated with his uncle, Dr. Z. W. Moss and has arranged a very attractive suite which has been furnished with the latest modern dental equipment.

Dr. G. C. Moss is a graduate of the Kansas City Western Dental college and has passed both the Missouri and Illinois state dental examinations. At the completion of his college course, he entered a post-graduate course in orthodontia which covers the straightening of defective teeth in children, in which he will specialize.

Dry Agents Ordered To Display Shields
Washington, Aug. 20—(UP)—Federal Prohibition Administrator Amos W. Woodcock today instituted a new reform in prohibition enforcement by ordering that dry agents hereafter must display a large black and white metal shield of identification when they stop automobiles suspected of carrying liquor.

The shield, which Woodcock approved today, will be 17 inches wide and 20 inches long. Across the top in black letters on a white background will be the word "STOP." Beneath there will be a large black "U. S."

Automobile Thief Escapes From Jail
Lacon, Ill., Aug. 20—(U. P.)—A posse headed by a deputy Sheriff was searching today for Lester Scott, 23, one of two auto thieves who escaped from the Marshall county jail.

Scott and Buford Clark, 18, seized Sheriff L. L. Davis last night as he entered their cell with food, locked him in the cell and escaped.

Clark was captured in a corn field last night after the Sheriff and deputies after four shots had fired. Scott was at large.

$40,000 Damage In Kankakee Store Fire
Kankakee, Ill., Aug. 20—(AP)—The large Emmer Puro Food store was extremely damaged by fire early today, the second time in 13 months. Damages were estimated at $40,000 approximately the loss in the previous conflagration. The fire is believed to have resulted from crossed electric wires.

Women Demand Mirror In Car

New York.—(U.P.)—Women automobile buyers are trying on new cars just as they try on hats and gowns, Nicholas Trott, motor expert, declares in the Current Woman's Home Companion.

No sale can be made, Trott says, until a mirror is wheeled up so that the lady occupant can see how her ensemble matches with the color of the car.

"All agree," says Trott, "that the American woman has the final choice in the selection of either her own car or that for the family. Body manufacturers are kept on the jump to suit the tastes of women who match cars to their costumes. Even the women who can afford but one coat, wants the car to suit the color of her clothes. She may be more particular than the woman who has many costumes. Women now approve cars that fit their best moods, just as they do apartments and furniture. Some even want car colors to match their pet dogs. Red, only is out, because some towns forbid its use because of the similarity of tire or police vehicles.

Gasoline tanks have been moved forward, manufacturers say, because women want to see correct measure given, but refuse to scramble out to watch the pumping process.

Fifty-fifth Wedding Anniversary Observed

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Missman quietly and pleasantly observed their fifty-fifth wedding anniversary yesterday at their home, with Mrs. Missman's sisters, Mrs. Nellie Potter and Mrs. Minerva Phillips spending the enjoyable day with them at their home. Mr. and Mrs. Missman received many telephone calls, congratulating them on the happy occasion, and many cards, also.

In the evening Arthur and Oscar Missman and their families as a surprise, called to spend the evening with their father and mother. They had with them baskets of lovely flowers, and boxes of candy, cake and ice cream for refreshments, and the grandchildren also had gifts for grandfather and grandmother. These were all presented with the best wishes of the donors and the expressions that Mr. and Mrs. Missman have many future happy anniversaries. Their hosts of friends join in the same wish, that they have continued health and happiness.

YOUR CHILDREN

by OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON
1930 BY MRS. HENRY

So often when we take children away to the country, or mountains, or seashore, it's just to have one or more of them celebrate the first week by getting sick in bed.

They've been perfectly well all summer and we sniff the bracing air, think over the wonderful food and clear pure water of the new place and wonder how on earth Johnny could be so ungrateful as to express his appreciation by a temperature and a stomach upset.

We sigh and wish we'd never left the good old home town where old Doctor Blank was handy just around the corner and a drugstore was almost within calling distance. But what's more, we're completely puzzled over the cause of Johnny's upset.

Many Sources of Trouble

We begin by asking him if he's been eating mushrooms on his own responsibility out in the old pasture, or picking blueberries that so closely resembled the poisonous nightshade, up above the road? No? Well, then, what can the matter be? A dozen things, or any one of them, rather depending on the place and on Johnny.

To begin with every change of climate and water takes a few days to fuse with the old conditions. We call this acclimating one's self. It pertains mostly to air conditions, pressure, humidity and other things, but water plays such a large factor in every such transplanting of the body that it goes in with the word.

The system is very carefully attuned to conditions around it, the heart works under such and such an air pressure, the nerves take their cue, and every organ in the body works accordingly.

Change this environment suddenly, take a child from a high altitude to the seashore, or a child from a broad low valley country to the rarer air of the mountains and his system has quite a little adjusting to do. Which it will do quickly and perfectly if he doesn't do too much all at once. But he does.

A Crowded Program

He wants to see everything, to try everything. He's on the go every second, swimming or riding or running around. Moreover, with the change of diet and his increased exercise, he overeats at the very time when his system is trying to get its bearings. He drinks more water, too, and it may be that the mineral content of the water is entirely different from that at home. It may be purer and better and yet make him sick at first, combined with the other things.

Again perhaps the vacation spot offers food that his stomach cannot take care of—that is always possible. Then, too, children on vacation break over schedule, don't keep regular hours, eat too much sweet stuff, and what not.

Don't get discouraged. Johnny will rebound like a ball. But the wise course is to keep an eye on all the little fish out adventuring in strange waters for the first two or three days. Let them go at it easy just at first.

CONGREGATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL PICNIC THURSDAY—
The Congregational Sunday school will hold a picnic for the entire school Thursday afternoon at Lowell Park. All children who have no means of conveyance will meet at the church at 1:30 o'clock. General rules will govern the serving of the supper.

I. J. Kendall and family motored to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Rhodes Sunday afternoon to visit with a cousin of the ladies, Stanton Gaylord and daughter Margaret who had motored from Lakehurst, N. J., making brief visits with relatives along the route. Leaving their home in Lakewood, N. J., Aug. 11, they made their first stop at Pittsburgh, Pa., where Mrs. Gaylord remained to visit her people. Mr. Gaylord and daughter came west to Chicago to visit a niece, Mrs. Tony Whitmore and family. They left Chicago Sunday morning and arrived here and took tourist rooms and went out to dinner, unaware of the fact that their cousins were expecting them.

When Mr. Gaylord phoned Mrs. Rhodes that she would have callers soon she called him by name, surprising him not a little. The afternoon was spent in reminiscing and also making the acquaintance of Miss Margaret, whom we had never met, also in taking several group pictures. They are spending a very short time with each family as they both are teachers and feel that they must get home for a few days rest before school opens. Mr. Gaylord has been Commercial teacher in Lakewood High school for 21 years and expects to teach 4 years more which will put him on the pension list. Miss Margaret begins her 2nd year in a grade school near Asbury Park, N. J., having 2nd and 3rd grades and receiving $1200, a raise of $100 over last year.

Lakewood is a winter resort, a town of 8,000 inhabitants and is an industry. One hundred and fifty hotels and rooming houses. A number of very prominent people spend a part of each year at this resort among those he named John D. Rockefeller and one of the Gould families, both Mr. and Mrs. Gould having died within the last 5 years, since when the Gould estate was sold to a Catholic school. The lake at this resort is 8 miles long and from one-eighth to one-fourth of a mile wide with a foot path entirely around it, which is one of the sports of tourists to hike around the lake, skating and sleighing too. Mr. Gaylord said his daughter had never had a sleigh ride though she is nearly 20 years old.

If a man owns a team and sleigh he can rent them out at $15 per hour to tourists (equal to airplane fare). That was why Margaret never had a sleigh ride, daddy couldn't stand the price. Mr. Gaylord said people just will not walk. Many of the teachers living one to three blocks from the school house get out their car and drive to school. He lives 4 blocks from school and feels that is not enough exercise as he really needs, to walk both ways. In that, the east and west are much the same. Mr. Gaylord and daughter were in Milleville Monday. Mrs. N. B. Ridgway and called on old friends, as well. He found many changes in the town also many old faces he missed since he was a Milleville boy.

Mr. Gaylord received his early education in what is now the grade school building. Both he and Margaret will be interested in seeing the new Community High school building, a model structure. They also plan to visit the Bethel cemetery where Mr. Gaylord's mother, father sister and brother are buried. After a brief stay in his old home town they will start on the homeward route.

Harmon Unit Home Bureau Meeting

The Harmon Unit of the Home Bureau met at the home of Mrs. Ellis Kugler Wednesday afternoon. The meeting was called to order by the chairman, Ethel Dietz, by the singing of several songs. Roll call was answered by "My Pet Economy." The secretary's report was read and approved. The local leader, Mrs. Ross, gave the lesson on "Small Equipment."

The lesson was a comparison of aluminum and granite; how each is made. Pictures were passed to show the process of making each; also samples of each made into a pan, showing the finish at each stage. The recreation period followed by playing bean, clothes pin and other games.

Mrs. Dietz demonstrated Dustless Dusters and a dust cloth with this solution was given to each one present. Meeting adjourned. Refreshments of raisin cake and root beer were served by the hostess. Eight visitors were present.

Wartburg League Elected Officers

The Wartburg League of the Immanuel Lutheran church held a meeting and an election of officers last evening at the church. The officers elected were:

President—Clifford Jacobs.
Vice President—John Siefkin.
Secretary—Miss Elizabeth Martin.
Sub-Secretary—Miss Helen Krug.
Treasurer—Louis Salzman.
Pianist—Miss Helen Krug.
Sub-pianist—Miss Elizabeth Martin.
The officers will assume their positions at the next meeting, which will be held the first of September.

The Smile 4-H Club Meeting on Thursday

The Smile 4-H club met Thursday afternoon at the home of Vernie Bohlen.

The meeting was called to order by the President. Roll call and minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary. All the members joined in singing a number of songs, after which the recreation period was enjoyed. Plans were talked over for the Achievement Day program, the date of which is not yet set.

The hostess then served dainty refreshments. A number of pictures were then taken of the members. After the social period all left for their homes, having experienced an enjoyable day.

Have You Heard?

No matter how far removed you are from cooling woods, you can have a touch of their beauty in your own home by use of potted plants and ferns.

New wrought iron stands hold two, three or four plants in an artistic arrangement of pots that take up little space and adds much to a room's livableness. They come in black or green and can be painted any other color you want for your interior decorating scheme.

Rose Eye Shadow—Green and Black Nails

Washington, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Green or black fingernails and rose eye-shadows are in store this fall for the nation's billion-spending beauty seekers if cosmetology's calculations find popular favor.

Manicures to match women's costumes were named today by H. L. Franklin, managing director of the organized beauticians of the country, as the latest wrinkle in the beauty game, designed to keep American women spending at a record-breaking clip.

Preparing for a national convention here Franklin was arranging demonstrations of color-scheme fingernails and "beauty-enhancing" eye shadows. Nail enamel of every hue will be available. If hats, gloves, shoes and bags are black, said Franklin, the fingernails also will be black and the color of their gloss can be changed with each costume.

Beauty as a big business, he said, is exactly as old as the bob—ten years. Its rapid rise in the post-war decade to a present level of $1,900,000,000 expenditure per annum he attributed to the development of the permanent wave machine.

Beauty-seekers spend annually $800,000,000 for cosmetics and an added $1,000,000,000 for having them put on, he said.

The eye-shadow, he said, was developed "to give the eye a background for its beauty," and also, of course, to give the beauty artist employment for his or her talents.

Fiftieth Wedding Anniversary On Thursday of John Salzmanns

Mr. and Mrs. John Salzmann, 103 Artesian Avenue, will celebrate their fiftieth wedding anniversary, tomorrow, August 21. Mr. and Mrs. Salzmann have made their home for fifty consecutive years at this address, and are numbered among Dixon's most highly esteemed citizens. At noon tomorrow, Miss Josephine Salzmann will entertain at luncheon for her father and mother a few of their old time friends. In the evening the children and their families will gather under the roof-tree to honor their parents and grandparents' golden wedding. Hosts of friends extend in advance best wishes for the future for Mr. and Mrs. Salzmann.

Californian Was Accused Of Spying

Paris, Aug. 20.—(U.P.)—A special military tribunal was summoned here today to assure France, and especially Alsace, that Charles Leopold Hartmann of Bakersfield, Calif., never was a German spy.

The tribunal was called to declare formally that Hartmann, who left Alsace when he was 17 years old and was not guilty of charges of espionage during the World War and that the actual German spy was another man who assumed Hartmann's name.

The Californian left for America when Alsace was taken over by Germany at the conclusion of the Franco-Prussian war. Hartmann returned last month to visit Nordheim after living in California for 58 years.

He was arrested half an hour after he entered town, where door after door was slammed in his face when he told his name and sought out old friends.

An examination of his papers revealed the facts of the case and the French arranged a formal apology.

YOUTH—THEN AND NOW.

Now and then we regret the passing of the old swimming pool. We sigh a little for the blue-green waters that were so cool and refreshing when the sturdy bodies of little boys went plunging through them.

We talk about the truant days when children went far afield, farther and farther from the small red school house, until finally the echoes of its bell were lost down the long, sunny road.

Those who lived in the happy days have thrown a glamour across them. It is a long way down the memory-tangled road and they recall only the dramatic. Those who have not known them thrill to the unreal.

The chances are 10 to one, if a comparison could be made of those days and the present, we would discover that contemporary American is having an exceedingly good time in spite of the fact that its recreation is handed to it on a silver platter, whereas its fathers had to go dig for theirs.

During the month of August the city streets are lined with children's parades in many cities. Gaily and contentedly the children march, showing specimens of the handiwork which they have made at summer playgrounds; showing off their pets, which are caged like those of a regular circus; singing songs, and now and then masquerading like the trapeze performers and clowns of the circuses which have come on gala days.

They seem to be playing life quite as much as their fathers did. Maybe it is because they have never tasted forbidden fruit that they are satisfied. They never had to slip away from a geography class to climb a tree and watch the sky and think long, long thoughts. They are taken on both any excursions and encouraged to scale the heights.

They have never had to slip out of the house when no one was looking, to join the gang diving at the mill pond. The playground provides supervised swimming every day.

Today's plan is much wiser and more sensible, of course. Approved play is very helpful and enjoyable. None will dispute that.

But that old, divine thrill of knowing you were doing something on your own was worth a couple of supervised hours. It gave a boy a feeling of importance. Of being a little bit daring, of approaching the blissful stage of manhood when he could swim at any hour and climb any tree without being reproved.

Forbidden fruit, even the harmless kind, is always sweeter. We have no fault to find with the modern system. It is developing stronger, healthier boys and girls. It puts its approval on the natural activities of youth instead of making children have to act as culprits who should be ashamed of their exuberance.

But there is a little of the romance of adventure that the tamer order doesn't have, somehow.

OCEAN-CROSSING DIRIGIBLES.

Did you notice how much less public interest there was in the recent trans-Atlantic trip of the British dirigible R-100 than there was in the earlier voyages of Germany's Graf Zeppelin? The heroic adventure of the Britishers was fully equal to that of the Germans, but the public didn't acclaim it as such.

All this may be lamentable from the standpoint of British pride, but it is an encouraging sign to those who view the future of aviation.

For it denotes clearly that trans-Atlantic air voyages are becoming quite commonplace, and it heralds the approach of a day when such will no longer be regarded as a rash adventure, but as a definite, systematized means of commercial transportation—as much as that of steamships that now ply the ocean's waves.

The adventure of today becomes the ordinary, routine duty of tomorrow. The air pioneers lead the way in the skies, just as Columbus pioneered the way on the oceans. The fact that their daring feats soon sink to the commonplace is visible proof of the fact that their aims are fast approaching the stage of efficiency.

Such are the stepping stones of progress and so they have been since history began.

The commerce department declares that miniature golf courses have helped relieve the unemployment situation. Our impression on the contrary, was that they were putting the country in a hole.

A restaurant just opened in Paris makes a specialty of sausages made of whale meat. It is rumored that the place will soon go up the spout.

A dentist says that by looking into the mouth you can tell the age of a human just as you can a horse. So now women will be motivated by reasons other than good form to cover up their yawns.

The pin stick of the finger today may, unless properly treated, result in a blood poison case in a very short time.

Pain, swelling, redness and heat are the usual symptoms of infection. The first of these, pain, is the most important. When pain is present, it should always serve as a warning that the infection should have expert medical attention. When it is the throbbing type and so severe as to cause loss of sleep, you may be sure that pus is forming—that infection is present.

Pus, when not allowed to escape, spreads along the line of least resistance, often to the deeper tissues. We have all seen red or purple streaks extending up the arm in the case of an infected hand. This is a danger sign—it means a spreading infection. Simultaneously we note kernels appearing above the elbow or in the armpit. These may be considered as way stations, as they prevent, at least for a time, the spreading of the infection into the general circulation, resulting in blood poison.

Closed wounds or so-called puncture wounds are more dangerous wounds than open wounds. All closed wounds such as a nail puncture of the foot. In other words, an infected wound should be allowed to heal from the bottom up and not just close over in a crust or scab. This should be done as pus under a scab cannot drain to the surface and may spread to surrounding tissues. A wet dressing over the wound is the best method to prevent scab formation.

Of particular danger are the infections which have their beginning in the region of the upper lip and within the nose. They should never be squeezed or picked as the germs may travel the short distance to the sinus along a vein to the brain. It is much safer to cause a boil or pimple to discharge by not compresses.

The usual treatment for infections is localization of the infection by heat, then opening the wound aseptically and draining it. Infections of the hand or foot are soaked in a hot water bath, and hot compresses, frequently wrung out of the solution, are applied to infections on other parts of the body.

Common table salt, one tablespoonful to a pint of water, may be added as a disinfectant but it is the heat and moisture that do the greatest good.

The principal thing to remember is that any case of infection is a potential case of blood poison and should have the prompt attention of your family physician. Delay in seeking scientific treatment frequently lead to serious difficulty and sometimes death.

THE TINYMITES

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The basket man was very kind. He told the bunch he didn't mind if they looked over his baskets. "My they're dandies," Clowney cried. "I'll bet you sell a lot each day as you are traveling on your way. And that must make the donkey glad to get them off his hide."

"Well, boys, I make them all myself and pile them high upon a shelf and then I load the donkey down and on our way we go. Folks buy the baskets that I bring and they are used for everything. It seems a loaf because the donkey walks so slow."

And then the man went on his way and left the Tynymites to play. They found a restaurant nearby and had a bite to eat. When it was dessert time they got some tasty cake and ate a lot. The Travel Man said, "Say, don't stuff. That cake is pretty sweet."

Out on the highway once again the Tynymites all listened when they heard a real loud tooting "That's a bugle call," cried one. "That sort of music makes a hit with me. Let's find who's blowing it, too, and we'll have heaps of fun."

They very shortly met a band of young boys who looked very grand, dressed up in clever uniforms. Said Carpy, "Who are you?" "We're Boy Scouts," one lad told the crowd. "Of course that makes us all feel proud. You've surely heard of Boy Scouts. Maybe you are Boy Scouts, too."

And then they heard wee Coppy shout, "I'm too small yet to be a Scout, but Scouty is his name." Their new found friend cried, "Well, that's fine." And then they all stood in a line and shook hands with the Times, saying, "We are glad you came."

(Clowney has his picture taken in the next story.)

TODAY IS THE ANNIVERSARY

HEGEL'S BIRTH

On August 27, 1770, George Hegel, one of the greatest of German philosophers, was born at Stuttgart, Germany.

His association at the University of Tubingen with Schelling, the philosopher, had a great intellectual influence on him. When he finished college Hegel became a tutor in Switzerland and then an instructor of philosophy at the University of Jena.

In 1811, after he had published his Encyclopedia of Philosophical Sciences, he accepted the chair of philosophy at the University of Berlin where his lectures attracted hearers from all ranks and professions. Because he ardently defended existing political institutions, he rose to great political influence. The noted aphorism in which he summed up his teaching, "The rational is the actual, and the actual is the rational," was taken to imply that the Prussian organization was the perfection of reason and freedom.

Hegel's system, which is usually termed the "philosophy of the absolute," falls into three departments: logic, or the science of thought in its pure unity with itself; the philosophy of nature, in which the ideal

Baseball Gossip

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.,
Associated Press Sports Writer

Due to the efforts of a pair of clubs which are not even making a pretense of getting into the superheated National League pennant struggle, the three contenders for the flag have found themselves in a more uncertain position with the prospect that the coming series between the Chicago Cubs and New York Giants will be the really crucial one of the season.

The Giants have taken second place in the standing and have placed themselves within striking distance of the league leading Cubs, only three games behind.

While the Giants were taking a close struggle from the St. Louis Cardinals, 4 to 2, Pittsburgh shoved Brooklyn's Robins into third place with an 8 to 0 triumph, while the Phillies kept the league leaders from making any sort of gain in a double header.

The Phillies took the first game by a 9 to 8 count despite the efforts of Hack Wilson, who clouted his 43rd home run to tie the National League record set last year by Chuck Klein and of Hartnett and Blair, who also hit homers. Then, as the teams attempted to play off Saturday's eleven inning tie, the tail enders battled the Cubs to a standstill in 16 innings of play which wound up in a 6-6 tie. Fidgety Phil Collins hurled the entire game and was deprived of a victory when Lester Bell hit a homer with two on base in the eighth inning.

The Giants gained their triumph by some timely hitting in the second inning which produced three runs. Pitcher Carl Hubbell driving in two of them. The Boston Braves took a 4 to 0 victory over Cincinnati.

The American League's hurlers had a thoroughly enjoyable day with the single exception of those who work for Boston. The Red-stockinged moundmen failed to stop the Cleveland batters and the Indians won both games of a double header by scores of 7 to 2 and 7 to 3.

Earl Whitehill gave Detroit a 2 to 1 victory over Washington. Charley Ruffing of New York made another kind of a mark by pitching his third two-hit game since he joined the New York Yankees. His victims this time were the Chicago White Sox, who succumbed by a 3 to 0 count.

George Blacholder hurled the day's fourth major league shutout, allowing the champion Philadelphia Athletics only five hits while the St. Louis Browns scored a 7 to 0 triumph. Goose Goslin led the attack with three home runs in successive times at bat.

Wilson is Personal
Chicago, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Hack Wilson is becoming more and more personal as he proceeds with his attempt to destroy Chuck Klein's National League home run record.

Monday Wilson knocked number 42 over the Phillie outfielder's head into the right field bleachers. Yesterday he tied Klein's mark of 43, and parked the ball in the seats before Chuck. Klein saluted the feat with a wave of the hand as Wilson jogged by second base.

SIR GALLAHAD'S COLTS SET MARK FOR YEAR'S SALES

Offspring Of Dadgy Of Gallant Fox Create Great Market

By ORLO ROBERTSON,
Associated Press Sports Writer.

New York, Aug. 20.—(AP)—When the 1930 turf history is written two of the titles are almost certain to be inscribed after the name of Sir Gallahad III, famous French sire.

With Gallant Fox's three-year-old earnings exceeding $250,000, the daddy of the brilliant three-year-old champion already holds a commanding lead as the ranking money winning sire of the year and when the yearling sales close at Saratoga this week he will have clinched the honor of being the sire of the highest priced turf youngsters placed on the 1930 auction block.

Chicle, sire of the great Whichone, 1929 juvenile champion and leading contender for this year's three-year-old title, led the group last year with $254,665. A simple problem of mathematics shows that Sir Gallahad III, with such consistent offspring as Gallant Fox, Ornesby, Flying Gal, Pancy Walker and Inco, will easily surpass Chicle's record this year.

In the Saratoga sales ring prices paid for the colts and fillies sired by the great European thoroughbred have far exceeded the bidding on the get of other famous sires. Although failing to equal the record prices of $75,000 paid by C. V. Cushman for a son of Whisk Broom III or $65,000 laid on the table by W. T. Waggoner of the Three D's Stock Farm for Broadway Limited a son of Man O' War, in 1928, the offspring of Sir Gallahad III have brought a consistent price. Eleven of the best Sir Gallahad get to go on the block brought $219,500 and average of $19,954.

Here is the list of the eleven ranking Sir Gallahad yearlings with their dams, purchaser and price:

Bay filly out of Starlight—Griffin Watkins—$30,000.
Dark bay colt out of Farnet—Three D's Stock Farm—$30,000.
Dark bay filly out of Embassy—Three D's Stock Farm—$26,500.
Bay colt out of Dare Say—Three D's Stock Farm—$26,000.
Bay colt out of Sun Spot—Norman Church—$24,000.
Bay colt out of Bessie Melton—Three D's Stock Farm—$19,000.
Brown colt out of Chewink—E. R. Bradley—$17,000.
Bay filly out of Risky—John D. Hertz—$16,000.
Bay filly out of Imp. Flamette—Foxcatcher Farms—$11,000.
Brown filly out of Breathing Spell—Greentree Stable—$10,000.
Bay filly out of Ten-Lee—John D. Hertz—$10,000.

175 Golfers Seek
Western Open Title
Detroit, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Indian Wood course, 6,896 yards long and somewhat rugged, but not what golfers call "unfair," was the scene today of the qualifying round of the contest for the Western Open championship, defended by Tommy Armour and sought by some of America's best professionals and a handful of first rate amateurs.

Practice rounds yesterday gave hope of some par smashing play before the championship is decided Saturday. Walter Hagen broke the course record with a 66, six below par, and several others were not far behind.

The final entry list showed 175 golfers seeking the title, of whom 150 will qualify today. These will play 18 holes on Thursday and a like number on Friday. For the final 36 holes the field will be cut down to the top 64 and ties.

Practically all of the big money winners of recent years are in the competition. The amateur contingent is headed by Charles (Chick) Evans, who won the Western Open twenty years ago and has been hoping to repeat ever since.

Sunday rides in the Walgreen plane range in price from $2.50 to $7.00, according to the length of the ride. Mr. Walgreen has generously donated the use of his airplane and pilot for benefit of the Dixon airport. 19515

FINAL RACES TO PICK CUP DEFENDER ON

Committee Has 10 Days To Select Yacht To Meet Shamrock V

By SIDNEY B. WHIPPLE,
United Press Staff Correspondent.

Newport, R. I., Aug. 20.—(UP)—Four racing yachts, representing millions of dollars and the last word in naval architecture, were to meet off here today to determine a defender for the historic America's Cup.

The chosen boat will go on to race Sir Thomas Lipton's Shamrock V, and the other three will lead a butlerly existence for a few years and then go into retirement, for none of them are constructed to carry lumber or coal.

There are at least four mistakes in the above picture. They may pertain to grammar, history, etiquette, drawing or whatnot. See if you can find them. Then look at the scrambled word below—and unscramble it, by switching the letters around. Grade yourself 20 for each of the mistakes you find, and 20 for the word if you unscramble it. Tomorrow we'll explain the mistake and tell you the word. Then you can see how near a hundred you bat.

The Hollywood Story

Copyright 1930 by NEA SERVICE Inc. by ERNEST LYNN

BEGIN HERE TODAY DAN RORIMER, temperamental young man of Hollywood, can't get along with a studio executive at Continental Pictures and goes up to contract an acceptance writer and asks to be fired. But he isn't. Dan is interested in ANNE WINTER, a girl from Tolan, Okla., who has shown enough ability to warrant a screen test and a decent part in a picture. Dan lives with PAUL COLLIER, who writes a daily movie column for a string of newspapers. Anne lives with two extra girls, EVA HARLEY and MONA MORRISON. A famous director named CARLBY SLOAN has shown a great interest in Anne, hardly ever, to warrant any hope. Dan does not like Sloan, but, however, an admirer of MARLIN COLLINS, formerly of Continental, now at Amalgamated. Rorimer and Anne attend a housewarming at Collier's home.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XX HOLLYWOOD is full of rumors. They fly about the great studios, and they hover over lunch-rooms and flit through hotel lobbies and along the boulevards. Such-and-such a star is getting a divorce; so-and-so is leaving this studio for that one; Amalgamated is going to do nothing but super-productions; a certain featured player is to be starred.

Rare is the official announcement that is not preceded by a host of rumors. It was a rumor that Louise Watkins wanted to discuss with Dan Rorimer, and while Dan was surprised at its nature, he did not think it at all strange that Miss Watkins should have heard it ahead of him, for news in Hollywood traveled in roundabout fashion. And, besides, Louise wanted for a group of gossip movie fan magazines, and she knew her Hollywood.

Continental Pictures, Louise Watkins said, was going to be sold. Lawson Brothers were going to buy Continental and merge it, or ally it, with their other studios. She had dropped in early on Rorimer and Collier that Sunday afternoon, had run into Johnny Riddle and informed him that Paul and Dan were having "open house," and had brought Johnny with her. "I thought you'd be interested," she told Dan.

"I should," Dan admitted. "Is it straight?" "It's not official, of course, but don't be surprised. Continental is close to the wall as it is. I imagine they'll be rather glad to be bought out instead of going under a sheriff's hammer."

Rorimer shrugged. "Well, it's all news to me, suppose Mr. Rorimer will find himself scouting around for a new job pretty soon." Paul Collier observed dryly: "You're lucky you haven't had to do your scouting before this," and at Louise's inquiring look Dan explained.

"I got sore at Adamson and tore up my contract." "Yeah, just like that," Paul commented. "I think he's smart," Johnny Riddle said. "Be independent; that's my motto. They think a lot more of you, Dan, if you tell them to go to the devil once in a while."

"What'll they do, Louise?" Dan asked. "Suppose they'll continue to operate it under the name of Continental, and apply some of their own well-known efficiency."

"There's room for plenty of that," Dan observed. "I beg your pardon." "Or maybe they'll merge it completely. But that's not very likely; the name Continental still means something." "Well, I'm for it—especially if it means that Adamson goes out on his neck."

"And how about you?" Paul demanded. Dan said, "My time was almost up anyway. Only a couple of months to go on the contract, and I know blamed well Adamson would never renew it. In fact, I'm expecting the air any day—in large and copious quantities."

He smiled. "Paul," he explained to Louise and Johnny, "worries about me. I'll give him gray hair yet."

Collier growled. He said that it took two to run an establishment such as theirs. "I'd like to maintain you in the comfort you're accustomed to, but I can't afford it."

Dan laughed and went to the kitchen, and Collier, turning to the others, said, "Independent, that's him all over."

"Quit picking on him," Johnny Riddle advised. "I like to see a man who can tell some of these high-powered executives where to get off and make them like it. . . . How's Dan's girl friend getting along?"

"Coming right along, Johnny. Better keep an eye on her; she'll make a good client for you."

"Johnny can't sign a new client without losing his heart to her," Louise Watkins said. "That might complicate matters. If she's a friend of Dan's, who is she?"

Collier said he didn't think Louise knew her. "Anne Winter is her name. You met a friend of hers one day, over at Continental. Eva Harley. That blond girl, remember?"

"Coming right along, Johnny. Better keep an eye on her; she'll make a good client for you."

"Coming right along, Johnny. Better keep an eye on her; she'll make a good client for you."

It was a noisy crowd, talkative and gay and light-heartedly cynical.

Louise did. Johnny Riddle, Collier observed in an envious tone, undoubtedly had the greatest racket in Hollywood. "It's all very well to have a legitimate publicity business and to make money at it—"

"Lots of it, too," observed Louise Watkins, "although he does nothing but complain about business." She laughed and called to Dan, who had appeared in the doorway with a tray of glasses, to come in. "We're making Johnny Riddle feel bad, Dan."

"It can't be done," Dan said. "Where there's no conscience there's no feeling."

RIDDLE grinned, started to protest. "Let me tell this," Paul Collier commanded, and he continued, "For clients Johnny has the most beautiful women in the world—"

"I have a few men," Riddle said stoutly. "—and when they're beautiful and nice," Paul went on, "he falls in love with them. He has a staff to get off and make them like it. . . . How's Dan's girl friend getting along?"

"Coming right along, Johnny. Better keep an eye on her; she'll make a good client for you."

BOY SCOUTS TO HOLD JAMBOREE AT BUFFALO, N. Y.

Sign Language Expert To Be on Hand to En- liven Proceedings

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 20.—(UP)—Junius C. Rochester, vice president of the Oregon Trail Memorial Association is here today in preparation for the formal opening tomorrow of the Niagara Frontier Oregon Trail Boy Scout Jamboree. The jamboree, which lasts through Aug. 24th, will be the eastern demonstration of the life and spirit of the pioneers as applied to scouting and will be the only event of its kind between St. Louis and New York.

The opening of the jamboree will mark the end of intensive work by a committee of 100 Buffalo business men since early spring. The Buffalo Kiwanis Club underwrote the financing of the enterprise.

The jamboree will be held on the Buffalo University grounds and among the throng in attendance will be William "Bill" Tompkins, brought up by the Sioux Indians and known to them as "Wild Horse," or Shunka Wakan Wahtogla, internationally famous teacher of one of the oldest of all languages—that of the Indian sign.

"While statesmen and diplomats of the greatest nations are trying to bring peace to the world by treaties 'Wild Horse' is trying to build a firm union for peace through boy friendships," Rochester declared. "He figures if the people of the world could understand each other most of the misunderstanding would disappear. Over a year ago he started this Let-Each-Other-Know-We-Want-To-Be-Friends movement by teaching more than 50,000 Boy Scouts the sign language of the American Indian at the World Boy Scout Jamboree in England.

"It was a compelling sight to see Scouts from Germany, America, Brazil, Iraq and many other countries all carrying on an intense conversation with hands going in place of tongues. He has taught more than 100,000 Scouts in the past two years.

"Bill is an old man now, sturdy, muscular and a fine old scout. The story of his life is more thrilling than any book, filled as it is with the romance of the out of doors, so appealing to boys. His book on Sign Language is recognized by the Smithsonian Institute as the leading authority. He has been a cowboy of the old west, a trapper and a government Scout. He is interested in tying the Boy Scout Movement more firmly into the romance of the trails and will give the message of 'The Year of Remembrance' to the Buffalo celebration through the sign language used by the Scouts of the world very largely in place of the military signaling. It is easy to learn—100 signs may be learned in an hour and 200 signs makes a fair sign talker."

Cleveland's Racket War Renewed Tues.

Cleveland, Ohio, Aug. 9.—(UP)—Indication of resumption of gang activities for control of this city's corn sugar industry was seen by police today in the shooting of an alleged racketeer.

A man thought to be Frank Alessi, associate of the slain Leonardo brothers, former corn sugar controllers, was shot early today. Police believed he was shot by members of the gang of the Porrello brothers, reputed present sugar barons.

Hospital attendants said the man probably would die.

Frank Brancato, reported to have been a former Leonardo faction man, was arrested. Brancato was taken to Alessi's bedside where Alessi identified him as his assailant, police said; gentle northeast winds.

The earth-dog, believed extinct in Hungary, has reappeared.

Infantile Paralysis Victim May Survive

Stromberg, Neb., Aug. 19.—(UP)—Relatives and nurses who for 12 days have sustained the life of Anita Hollister, 26, victim of infantile paralysis, through artificial respiration appeared today to have won their fight.
Miss Hollister's lung muscles, deadened by the disease for 12 days, had regained some of their strength and she was able to breathe for more than a minute at a time without aid.
Dr. C. L. Anderson, attending physician, said he believed she would recover.
Maurice Knerr, 11, cousin of Miss Hollister, died Sunday from infantile paralysis. No other cases of the disease have been reported but the town remained under quarantine today.

Mother Shoots Son Thinking Him Bandit

Chicago, Aug. 19.—(UP)—Mistaken for a burglar and shot in the left lung by his mother, Clyde Lawler, 24, a taxicab driver was in a serious condition at Auburn Park hospital today.

According to the wounded man's mother, Mrs. Gertrude Lawler, 46, Lawler had returned home from a party shortly after midnight. He made a noisy entrance into the Lawler home and the mother picked up a small revolver and fired into the darkness, at what she thought was a burglar.

E. E. Lawler, a woodcutter, father of the wounded man, was at home at the time of the shooting.

Davis Intercedes For Bernt Balchen

Washington, Aug. 19.—(UP)—An attempt to obtain full citizenship for Bernt Balchen, the pilot who carried rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd over the South Pole, was undertaken today by Secretary of Labor Davis personally.
After Balchen's return from the Antarctic it was discovered that a provision of the naturalization laws required continued residence in the United States for a five-year period. Under the law Balchen, who had nearly completed his term, would have to start the period all over again.
Davis' intervention took the form of a letter to Raymond F. Crist, commissioner of Naturalization.

Postmistress Held On Serious Charge

Galatia, Ill., Aug. 20.—(UP)—Mrs. Pearl Norman, Postmistress of Galatia, was freed under $2,000 bond today, following her arrest on a warrant charging assault with attempt to murder Clyde Webber.

Webber swore out the warrant, claiming he quarreled with Mrs. Norman last Saturday and she threatened him with a pistol. He filed a similar charge against her several months ago, and the September grand jury will be asked by State's Attorney D. F. Rumsey to return indictments.

Shot Dead While Sitting In Kitchen

Powming, Mo., Aug. 19.—(AP)—Barnett Baxter, 32, was mysteriously shot to death last night while he sat in the kitchen of his home here chatting with his mother and sister.

Baxter recently returned from Chicago where he resided the past five or six years. His father died six weeks ago.

Following the shooting, which occurred at 9 o'clock, discovery was made that telephone wires leading into the house had been cut.

Argentine Fighter Wins From Flowers

New York, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Justo Suarez, Argentine lightweight, knocked out Bruce Flowers, New Rochelle, N. Y., Negro in the sixth round of a ten round bout at the Queensboro Stadium last night.

Suarez gave Flowers a bad beating, flooring him with heavy rights for counts of nine in the second and third rounds and knocking him down for the full count with a left hook.

The victory was the most decisive of Suarez' American campaign. Previously he had outpointed Joe Glick and Herman Perlick in ten round bouts. Each weighed 136 1/2 pounds.
